

EUR Research Information Portal

The new divided city: Class transformation, civic participation and neighbourhood context

Publication status and date:

Published: 15/04/2021

Document Version

Other version

Citation for the published version (APA):

Custers, G. (2021). The new divided city: Class transformation, civic participation and neighbourhood context. [Doctoral Thesis, Erasmus University Rotterdam]. Erasmus Universiteit Rotterdam (EUR).

Link to publication on the EUR Research Information Portal

Terms and Conditions of Use

Except as permitted by the applicable copyright law, you may not reproduce or make this material available to any third party without the prior written permission from the copyright holder(s). Copyright law allows the following uses of this material without prior permission:

- you may download, save and print a copy of this material for your personal use only;
- you may share the EUR portal link to this material.

In case the material is published with an open access license (e.g. a Creative Commons (CC) license), other uses may be allowed. Please check the terms and conditions of the specific license.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this material infringes your copyright and/or any other intellectual property rights, you may request its removal by contacting us at the following email address: openaccess.library@eur.nl. Please provide us with all the relevant information, including the reasons why you believe any of your rights have been infringed. In case of a legitimate complaint, we will make the material inaccessible and/or remove it from the website.

THE NEW DIVIDED CITY

Class transformation, civic participation and neighbourhood context

Propositions:

1. The definition of social class is a key issue in studying processes of polarisation and professionalisation.
2. Cultural capital is an important factor in transforming the contemporary class structure.
3. The institutional context affects to what extent inequality in civic participation may increase or decrease during economic downturns.
4. Neighbourhood organisations have distinct functions and complement each other in important ways.
5. Neighbourhood networks play a limited role in obtaining employment, irrespective of the neighbourhood socioeconomic status.
6. "That's what segregation means. You don't know what's happening on the other side of the wall, because you don't want to know." (James Baldwin)
7. The online R and statistics communities are an invaluable source for academic progress.
8. A large N cannot compensate for theoretical paucity.
9. A word limit of 8,000 words is too low for sociological research.
10. Beleid is niet op zoek naar kennis, maar naar argumenten (credits: Take Sipma)
11. Feyenoord elk jaar kampioen maken is de beste investering om de boel in Rotterdam bij elkaar te houden.