

FROM REASON TO REVOLUTION CONFERENCE 2021

ARMIES AND ENEMIES OF NAPOLEON

1789-1815

HOSTED ONLINE VIA

SATURDAY 17TH APRIL
1.00P.M. TO 6.00P.M.

Helion and Company are proud to announce the 2021 From Reason to Revolution Conference.

This year's conference will focus on warfare in the age of Napoleon, looking at aspects of the armies of both sides and their experiences on campaign and in battle. Many of the speakers are published authors from the From Reason to Revolution series, or are working towards some of our future titles, and include some major names in international Napoleonic studies.

Ticket holders will be sent a joining link by email ahead of the event, and will have access to a virtual bookshop during the event with 25% reductions on all From Reason to Revolution titles. The Demio platform we will be using is entirely browser-based and requires no extra downloads.

CONFERENCE PAPERS

Strategy, Operations, and Command

Philip Ball – The Unfortunate General Mack: Reputation, Prejudice and Luck in 18th Century Strategy

Terry Crowdy – Military Intelligence in the Italian Campaign

Alex Mikaberidze – 'I wash my hands of it all': Reassessing Mikhail Kutuzov's Involvement in the Austerlitz Campaign of 1805

Serving Foreign Powers

Alistair Nichols – French émigré units in British pay: the white cockade regiments, 1794–1802

Mark Edward Hay – Incorporation, Destruction, Reorganisation. The Dutch Armed Forces between Annexation and Liberation, 1810-1815

The Spanish Ulcer

Kenton White – The French Way of Warfare in the Peninsula

Rob Griffith – Light Bobs & Jägers: Wellington's Battalions of Light Companies in the Peninsula

Tickets are £5 per person and can be booked via <https://www.helion.co.uk/military-history-conferences.php>

Any questions can be directed to From Reason to Revolution series editor Andrew Bamford at andrewbamford@helion.co.uk

or scan the QR code
with your smartphone

